CONSUMPTION CURED

CANCHALAGUA;

FOR THE COMPLETE CURE OF

Coughs Colds, Influenza, Asthma, Bronchitis, spitting of Blood, and all other Lung Complaints tending to CONSUMPTION.

READ! READ!!

This medicine is not what is represented to be the above A remedy for the complete cure of all those affections with which it is recommended. It is a well known fact that many a valuable remedy has been lost to the world, entirely for want of a little timely exertion. Prejudice, which has so long retarded the progress of many valuable discoveries, is fast giving way before the light of truth and science. Many valuable remedies are now introduced into this country from Calcutta, and among the Rice plantations of Carolina, which are proving to be of the first importance to the human family. Among the number may be mentioned the Canchalagua, a plant of most wonderful medicinal virtues. Lately in no instance has this country from Calcutta,

City Affairs.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, Feb. 23, 1850.

Petition of Hiram Emery and others, voters in Ward 6, and of Hayward Pierce and others, Simon T. Pearson and others, voters in Ward 5, to have a part of Ward 6 set off to said 5th Ward—referred to a joint special committee consisting of Alderman Bowman and Messrs. Dean and Taylor of the Council—who subsequently reported an ordinance agreeably to the prayer of the petitioners, and the same was passed to be ordained in concurrence.

Memorial of Thompson & Files for allowance for extra labor on the School house on the "Bruce lot," referred to the Committee on Accounts and Claims.

Ordered, That the Assessors and Hollis Bowman, Esq. be authorized and directed to adjust and settle the balances of unsettled taxes due from Isaac W. Patten, Collector of taxes for 1847 and 1848, on such terms and conditions as in their opinion they may deem just and equitable, and for the best interest of the city. Passed in concurrence.

Order directing the Street Engineers to lay out a street between land of Hathaway and land of Geo. W. Savage—referred to the next City Council in concurrence.

The following Reports were severally read and passed in concurrence:

On Accounts and Claims; on several bills of the same on claim of Engine.

Report of the Committee on Accounts and Claims, on the claim of B. Bursley for allowance for injury received by him in falling into a cellar on Broad Street—taken from the table and accepted in concurrence.

Order authorizing the Mayor to draw his order on the City Treasurer for the sum fifty dollars, in favor of J. Bursley in full for his claim against the city.

Adjourned to Friday, March 8, 2 o'clock P. M.

Stricklands' New Block—The Occupants at Home again.

Stricklands' Block on Kenduskeag Bridge, in our immediate vicinity, has been rebuilt since the disastrous fire last fall, and now presents a much improved appearance. The new block is larger and of much better architecture than the old one, more graceful and more convenient, and better every way.

On referring to our advertising columns it will be found that all the former occupants have stores in the new block.

Mr. Albert Tricomb, a skillful mechanic and one of the most reliable men in the broad world; a dowright Newburyporter without guile; has opened a new stock and is ready for business or labor in watches, jewelry and the like; and ready to live and let live.

David Bugbee has his Bookstore and Bindery in full operation; with a new fresh stock, and new machines and implements. His energies are equal to the new start, and with the patronage of old friends and new, he will make the future as creditable, satisfactory and profitable as the past.

Francis Moran has clothed himself anew in the new store, and is now ready to neatly clothe the whole race of men.

Wm. H. Flagg has become new shod for a new campaign, and has opened in a large, spacious store a fine stock of Boots and Shoes for the supply of all the family of man who are born without shoes.

J. S. Richards, whose constant labor it is to supply light to those who wander in darkness, and to illuminate every happy home; is now better than ever before, prepared to give more light to those who seek for it.

There is one new comer to the new block E. C. Smart, who has a smart lot of fashionable clothing for a smart people, and who can smartly answer all orders for making clothing, and who is smart enough to deserve, and probably to succeed in doing a good smart business.

Meeting for the promotion of Juvenile Reforms.

Our citizens should bear in mind that the public meeting to consider what measures shall be taken for the purpose of effecting a reform in the youth of our city, stands adjourned to meet at the City Hall this evening at seven o'clock.

This subject is found of deep interest in Boston, New York, and other cities, and the friends of morality, good order and religion find that it is imperative upon them to furnish the means of improvement and of reformation to the vagrant and uncared for children and youth. It is high time that the people of this city were aroused to the importance of something of this kind being done in this city. The need here is sufficiently large to demand the united efforts of all our people of all parties and sects; and we trust that the demand will be heeded and answered as it may be if the benevolent friends of the virtues in our city will heartily enlist in the cause.

MAINE PROLIFIC. It always affords us pleasure to record facts going to show the excellencies of the climate, the soil and the arts of Maine and her people: of course we cannot but be pleased to mention that on Friday the 22d of February, the anniversary of the birthday of Washington; Mrs. Lemuel S. Silsby, of Amherst, gave birth to three children, two boys and a girl. The mother and children were all well at last accounts and were doing well, and so are the prospects.

☞ Mr. Thomas Rand, of Canaan, in a fit of intoxication was kicked by his horse a few days since, which caused his death. He has left a wife and eight children.

☞ Mr. Carpenter, the shrewd publisher of the Skowhegan Clarion, intends refusing to receive any subscriptions to his paper without the pay in advance. In this he is most wise at last, and it will be better for all parties.

☞ John H. Sayward, Esq. has been appointed Postmaster of Alfred, Maine, vice Mr Derby, removed.

A letter from Henry P. Moody of Newburyport, now in California, states that the first night he and his party stopped on their way to the mines, they killed a rattlesnake and a wolf—that no one can tell how much suffering there is among the miners—that if a man once gets wet, he has got to wait till Spring before he can get dry! He says—"Two-thirds of the miners can not get more than enough to pay for their provisions, and some are in debt. The stories in the papers are written by those who do well, and I am inclined to think that three-quarters of them are lies from beginning to end. Upon arriving at the mines, we found that John Thomas Thurlow, R. Colby, Charles Brown, and uncle James Brown, were dead! and likewise Captain Proctor, of the ship Captol, and quite a number of the passengers.—Mr. Stickney is a very sick man; Mr. Cook thinks some of going home the 10th of January, and Mr. Stickney will go with him, if he is well enough."

A Washington letter writer states that Senator Dickinson of New York is preparing a platform of compromise, as follows: First—Missouri line to the Pacific. Second—State of California, north of that line. Third—Territorial government for territories; nothing on slavery. Fourth—Compensation to Texas for disputed territory. Fifth—Provision for three more slave states from Texas, to maintain the balance of power. This is compromise with a vengeance! It concedes to the South all that it demands, and considerable more.

It is reported by telegraph that Mr. Calhoun has abandoned all idea of speaking in the Senate at present, and that he will never again speak in that body. He is preparing some remarks which he designs shall be read on Thursday next, by some Southern Senator in his place. Senators Webster and Benton will follow in favor of the Union, with additional remarks on California.

The Tribune has a letter from Washington, announcing that a committee of southern members have had an interview with President Taylor, during which he expressed himself ready to maintain the Union, if needs be, at the cost of his own blood. He should blockade every southern port, in case of an armed resistance to the collections of customs. He should take volunteers from northern and western States, and head them himself.

The Gardiner Advertiser says a fishing party from that city to Moosehead Lake has just returned, bringing with them upwards of 150 pounds of salmon trout, the largest trout weighing only a little over seventeen pounds. They state that business is good in that quarter, and that 30 teams are continually employed in carrying supplies to our hardy sons who are at work in the woods.

☞ The new Census Bill now before the Senate, provides that the enumeration shall commence in June, and that the returns shall be completed in October. The forms must be printed and distributed before the first of June. The census will cost $1,200,000. The last one cost a million.

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 21.

The Evening Delta contains the decision on the great Games case, given this morning against Mrs. Games, on nearly all the points, dismissing her bill. Judge McCall, of the district court, gave the decision. The opinion of Judge McKinley was withdrawn.

The quantity of lumber which has been shipped from Boston to California, during the last four months, exceeds ten millions of feet, of shingles, between seven and eight millions and a considerable quantity of house and store frame, laths, joist, clapboards, &c.

The fines paid into the Worcester County Treasury, as the result of trials during the present term of the Court of Common Pleas, amount to $3,000, of which sum $2,500 were for violations of the license law.

The Salem Register states that Gov. Briggs has consented to deliver the Annual Address before the Seaman's Widow and Orphan Association in Salem, on Sunday evening, March 10th.

☞ Election in New Hampshire, Tuesday, the 12th of March. The papers are beginning to "wood up."

☞ It is reported that Fletcher Webster, Esq. has been appointed Surveyor of the port of Boston, vice Gen McNiel deceased.

DUEL THREATENED. There was some talk in Washington on Saturday, of a challenge having been passed between Messrs. Bissell and Brown, of Mississippi. The correspondent of the New York Commercial says:

"It is reported that Hon. A. G. Brown, of Mississippi, has required a retraction, by Col. Bissell, of a portion of the remarks concerning the conduct of the regiment of volunteers from that State, contained in his speech of Thursday last. The rumor is, that Col. Bissell wrote out that portion of his speech, as intended to be published, and furnished it in answer to the demand, with an intimation that if this was not satisfactory, further communication on the subject might be made to his friend, Gen. Shields, of the Senate. I do not consider the report well founded. The feeling excited among the eulogists of the Mississippians, by Col Bissell's vindication of the truth of history in regard to the battle of Buena Vista was, I know, very unanimable, but it will probably find sufficient expression in the angry replies that will be made on the floor of the House."

The correspondent of the New York Tribune states that Jefferson Davis, of the Senate, has also pounced upon Col. Bissel, in relation to the same matter.

DISSOLUTION.—The Washington correspondent of the Boston Atlas, says:

"Nothing disturbs the President less than the fear of dissolution. I heard an anecdote about him to day, which shows pretty well what his opinion is on the matter. The story goes that a gentleman from the south, was expatiating on the advantages that would result from the dissolution of the Union. 'Dissolve the Union, said the President, that is utterly impossible. It is impossible even to make a beginning, for the first man that attempts it will have to swing.' So either the price of hemp must go up, or the commercial community put no confidence in southern threats."

FOREIGN ITEMS.

The America brings accounts of dull and languid markets in Great Britain. Cotton after an advance of ¼d shortly after the sailing of the last steamer, had settled down to the rates current at the last advices, with a quiet market.

The Waterford Mail states that the emigration to America is greater at this season than at any former time.

Austria has made a demand for the extradition of some Poles, who have taken refuge from the severities following the late Hungarian troubles, within the cantonments of Switzerland. The Swiss Government have refused to surrender the refugees, except in cases where it is clearly proved that the refugees have intrigued in politics, and otherwise misconducted themselves. In this position the cantons are supported by the French government. England will also, it is supposed, sustain the Swiss in their position.

Col. Bradshaw, with a force of 2500 men, proceeded from Peshawur, India, to bring some refractory villages who had refused to pay tribute, to order. On the 10th of November they came in sight of the village of Sunghao. The enemy were believed to be about 2000 strong, and were attacked on the morning of the 11th. They offered a stout resistance of five hours' duration, when they were compelled to retire. The village was then set on fire! On the 12th the head man came in and sued for pardon, paying the revenue of the past year, and promising good conduct for the future. On the 13th the force again moved on to punish some other refractory villages. On the morning of the 14th three villages, which were of great natural strength, were attacked. After a stout resistance the enemy was driven out and the buildings set fire to and razed. A general submission was expected to ensue.

☞ The Skowhegan Clarion has the following in reference to the suspected murder alluded to in our paper a few days since:

A man by the name of Mains, belonging to Harmony, was found dead about two miles from Grant's Tavern, at Moose Head Lake. It appears that Mains and another man from Bangor, Frost, stopped at Grant's tavern, where they obtained liquor to drink and also a bottle full to carry away with them. They then left to go to a logging camp some miles distant, and from appearances proceeded peaceably for some distance. It would seem that an altercation took place and blows were struck, as blood was found for some distance along the road. The next morning however, Frost returned and stated that Mains had injured himself, and that he had returned for assistance. On repairing to the place indicated, Mains was found dead, with a severe contusion upon the face, back of the head, shoulders and back; the flesh and cords had also been severed from the back of the fingers on the left hand. Both of the persons were intemperate, and the act was probably committed under the influence of liquor.

PAINTING IS CHARACTER. Some of the old painters fell into ludicrous blunders in the accessories of their compositions, they being probably, absorbed by the principal subject. Tans Tintorette, in a picture representing the Israelites gathering manna in the wilderness, has armed them with guns! And Breughel, a Dutch painter, in a picture of the Eastern Magii, has dressed the figure o'fter the fashion of his own country. One of the Indian kings appears in a large white surplice, with boots and spurs, and bearing in his hand, as a present to the Infant Saviour, the model of a Dutch seventy-four! In a picture of the Annunciation, at Cassna, the Virgin is seated in a rich, crimson velvet arm chair, with gold embroidery; a cat and a parrot are near her, and seem to be very attentive to what is passing.—On the table are seen a silver coffee pot and cup.

☞ We publish the following among other rumors of the day. It is from the Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune:

"I have reason to believe that Hon. John M. Clayton, on account of his infirm health, will insist on his being relieved from the arduous and incessant labors of his present station, at some not very distant day, and that his request will be acceded to by Gen. Taylor, but not till after the pending negotiation with great Britain respecting Central America and the Nicaraugua Ship Canal shall have been concluded. Whenever Mr. Clayton does retire, be it sooner or latere, I venture to predict that Hon. Robert C. Winthrop, of Massachusetts, will succeed him as Secretary of State."

A Mr. Jones advertises his plantation for sale, in a Southern religious paper, and includes in the advertisement, "fifty or sixty servants," which are constantly increasing in value and number. He wishes to sell, he says, as he has a desire to become a missionary.

He that has no stockings, is bare of understanding. He that wears crimson socks, hath too much red.

If you are to shoot at a man, you must be pitted; pitted, if he shoots you.

The Great Rivers of Africa.

Africa holding such a prominent rank in the ancient records, the seat of some of the most renowned nations of antiquity, the source of Grecian science and philosophy, the land of the pyramids, the citadel of Ethiopean and Carthagenian power, has a humble place in modern history.

Indeed, historical Africa, ancient and modern, is but an inconsiderable portion of that vast continent bearing its name. The valley of the Nile, and the narrow strip of land between Sahara and the Mediterranean constituted ancient Africa. To the world in general, and even to the scrutiny of the most intelligent and enterprising travellers, a large portion of it is yet a sealed book. Its compact form, its destitution of gulfs and inland seas, its barrenness of navigable rivers, its burning and inhospitable climate, together with its vast and trackless deserts, have so completely barred it to foreign commerce and the ingress of foreign civilization, that, in this fated land, barbarism has maintained its ascendency from the most remote ages.

If Africa has few large rivers, (she has only two worthy the name,) these few are by no means devoid of interest and importance. The extraordinary efforts of travellers to discover the mouth of the one and the sources of the other, have rendered them objects of curious notoriety. The largest and most interesting river in Africa, if not in the world, is the Nile.—The beautiful valley of the Nile, fertilized by its constant inundations, has been long and familiarly known; but the locality of the resources of this beneficent stream is a geographical problem, which has frequently been on the point of solution only to be removed farther off than ever. If we may credit history, the ancients were desirous, and made many efforts, at different periods, to discover the origin of this mysterious river. Sesostris, the most powerful of the ancient Egyptian monarchs, desired the honor of the discovery. Alexander the Great exerted himself it is said, to the same end but without success. The Ptolmies undertook the task, and, after them, Caesar was curious to make the attempt, though prevented by the multifarious duties of a great empire. Nero sent two Centurions into Ethiopia on an errand of discovery; but they did not succeed in accomplishing their mission. In the year 522, a monk was despatched to Abyssinia, under the auspices of the Emperor Justinian, to explore the branches of the Nile, and ascertain its source. He followed the Tacazze, the south-easterly tributary of the Nile. The next exploration was made by Peter Paez, a missionary. He was succeeded by Bruce. It was ascertained by him and corroborated by Bruce, that the fountains (of the river) are situated on the highest part of a valley, which resembles a great plain on every side surrounded by high mountains, in the west part of Gojam, and in the territory of the Agows. But these facts relate to but one branch of the Nile, and that not the most distant.*

Thus unsuccessful in all their researches, the moderns, like the ancients, might with some apparent reason, pronounce it a mystery of nature, and concealed by heaven from human eyes for some wise purpose.

The Nile, from its entrance into the Mediterranian to the confluence of the Tacazze, is 1,200 geographical miles in length, following the sinuosities of the stream, and, throughout this whole distance, it receives no permanent tributaries; though during the rainy season torrents flow into it from the highlands lying between it and the Red Sea. The other two principal branches, are the Bahr el Azrek, or Blue River, and the Bahr el Abjad, the White Nile. The latter, according to the latest and best authorities, is the most distant as well as the most important tributary. Hence, the attention of geographers is directed to this stream for a revelation of that secret of nature, the true source of the mystic river. Accordingly, the Pasha of Egypt, Mehemet Ali, sent an expedition thither in 1839; but the result was unsuccessful. The next year another expedition was resolved upon, and two French Engineers and a Prussian were engaged to accompany it.

It left Kartum, the junction of the White and Blue rivers, on the 23d of November on its voyage up the Abyad. As it proceeded, the expedition found the navigation of the river impeded by innumerable islands; farther onward the river spread into a chain of lakes, one of which is twenty miles square and receives the water of the Gazelle river. After sailing southward as far as 4 deg. 40 min. north lat. the expedition halted without completing the enterprize. It appears, therefore, says a writer in the monthly Magazine, that the sources of the White Nile remain to be discovered in the mountainous regions of Zangurbor, most probably in a continuation of the Luparu, and in a position northward of the great inland sea of the Marave. From these explorations, the length of the Nile, from the imagined sources of the Abyad to the delta, must considerably exceed 2,500 miles. The territory, drained by its branches, teeming in the equatorial regions, supplies the numerous lakes and marshes by which the tributaries are bordered, with vast quantities of water, during the rainy season.

This fact accounts for the inundations on the lower Nile. As the waters of the upper Nile do not flow in a narrow continuous stream, but expand into a chain of lagoons and lakes, a large inland reservoir is formed for the tropical rains, from which water is dispensed to thirsty Egypt, and the time of the overflowings protracted.

The second great river of Africa is the Niger, or Quorra, in some respects not less interesting than the Nile. Like the latter river it has been the subject of many theories and speculations among geographers, both ancient and modern. Some writers have maintained that the Niger was known to Ptolmy and Herodotus; but it seems more than probable that they had no definite knowledge of Central Africa. Even after a section of the river had been discovered in the interior, there were many vage notions as to where it discharged its waters. Some were of opinion that it united with the Nile, some, that it discharged its waters into an inland sea; while others supposed that it either lost its waters amid the sands, of a desert, or disembarged itself into the ocean through the mouth of the Senegal, Gambia or Rio Gando. Mungo Parke reached the banks of the Quorra Jolihu, at Sego in the kingdom of Bambbara, July 22, 1796.—He determined the course of the river, from this point, to be eastward. In the meantime he traced it upward to Bammerkoo, and downward to Silla. In his second expedition in 1835, he embarked at Sansanding for the purpose of tracing it to its mouth; but was killed at Bausa by the natives. Nothing farther was effected to accomplish the enterprise. Park had undertaken, till the expedition of 1821, under Denham and Clapperton. They discovered the great lake Tchad. Not having accomplished his object in the first, Clapperton set out on his second expedition in 1825, accompanied by Richard Lander. Clapperton dying, Lander attempted to prosecute the enterprise but was prevented by the jealousy of government.

In 1830 Lander renewed the undertaking, in company with his brother John. They succeeded in tracing it to the ocean, and thus resolving the mystery in which it had long been involved. At a distance of about 2,000 miles from the point where Park first commenced his explorations, they saw it discharging itself through several mouths into the Bight of Benni.

The source of the Niger is in the western part of Africa, between 10 and 12 degs. N. lat. Its course is first easterly, then southerly, and lastly it turns to the west, its whole length exceeding 2,000 miles. It is navigable for steamers as far as Boussa; the channels crossing its delta can be navigated with safety by sea vessels.—Its shores, in many parts, are densely populous, being rich in animals and vegetable productions, opening an inviting field to commerce.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 26.

The Senate in this State have passed a bill from the House allowing slaves to come into the State without restrictions.

The New Orleans papers have later advices from Mexico. Indian outrages continued to prevail. The Mexicans recently attacked in the States of Durango and New Leon, killing 34.

The Mexican mines were unusually productive. Several new discoveries had been made.

The steamer Galveston brings news from Galveston to the 15th inst. The Indians were committing serious depredations in Western Texas. The Governor had sent a message to the Legislature advising of the necessity of preparing for a general Indian war and recommending the passage of a law authorizing the executive to call into service a competent force.

The Herald has the following:

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.

The death of Gen McNiel, late Surveyor of the Port of Boston has been seriously mourned. His funeral took place to-day a large and imposing Military and Civil procession, composed of the President and prominent individuals here paid the last honors to the gallant deceased.

An executive session to-day had under consideration a resolution respecting the Shaunboig affair in the State Department. There are rumors that Mr Winthrop will succeed Clayton. It is also said that Mr Abbott Lawrence has expressed a desire to be recalled in the event of which Mr Winthrop probably would be sent to the Court of St James.

The N. Y. Journal of Commerce has the following despatch, dated-

Washington, Feb. 26.

Mr. Foot's statements have created alarm.—The events rumored are a renewal of the struggle between north and south.

A Stick of Type.

C. D. STUART.

A Stick of Type! what shot or shell
From war's grim camp hath half the power?
A Stick of Type! with this one thought,
That Freemen's Man's God-given dower!

That Stick of Type! hath more of might
Than warrior hosts or fortress walls,
And it shall batter towers to dust
That laugh at siege or cannon balls.

That Stick of Type! I see it break
The oldest of the blood-built thrones,
And hit the yoke from millions, bowed
O'er dead slave-millions' bleaching bones.

That Stick of Type! Careering fleets
Before it idly flap their wings,
And banners armies pass like chaff,
Grown hideous 'mong remembered things.

That Stick of Type! God bless the Faust,
Who wrought it in his conquering brain;
That Stick of Type! God bless the Hoe,
Who scatters it abroad like rain.

The Type! the Press! the living thought!
By steam and lightning sped abroad,
Shall conquer yet, and bring to man
The Freedom, Love and Truth of God!

City of Bangor.
In the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and fifty.

An Ordinance additional to an "Ordinance defining, and establishing the boundaries of the several Wards, in the city of Bangor,"—ordained March 14, 1846.

Sect. 1. Be it ordained by the Mayor, Aldermen and Common Council of the City of Bangor, in City Council assembled, That Wards numbered Five and Six, in said city, be, and they are, hereby bounded as hereafter described, until otherwise ordained by the City Council to wit:

Ward number Five.—Beginning on the northerly line of the city where the stream crosses the same; thence down said stream to the bridge, near Pearson & Drummond's Mill's; thence from said Bridge in a direct line to where Division Street intersects with the road to Bruce's Mills; thence through Division Street to Centre Street, down Centre Street to Cumberland Street, up Cumberland to Broadway; thence southerly on Broadway to Somerset Street; thence easterly on Somerset Street to Essex Street; thence on Essex Street, southerly to State Street; thence easterly on State Street, to the easterly line of the lot belonging to the heirs of the late John Howard; thence on said easterly line, and a continuation of the same, until it intersects with the new County road to Orono, up said County road to the line of Orono, thence northerly and westerly on said line, to the place of beginning, and including lots numbered 42, 43, and 44, on the west side of Kenduskeag stream.

Ward numbered Six.—Beginning at the bridge over the Kenduskeag stream at the foot of State Street; thence up said stream to the bridge over the same, near Pearson & Drummond's Mills; thence following the southerly line of Ward Five to State Street; thence down State Street to the place of beginning.

Sect. 2. Be it further ordained, That so much of an ordinance establishing the limits of the several wards in said city, as relates to Wards numbered Five and Six, passed March 14, 1846, be, and the same is, hereby repealed.

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, Feb. 23, 1850.
This Ordinance having had two several readings, passed to be ordained, and sent down for concurrence. WILLIAM H. MILLS, Mayor.

IN COMMON COUNCIL, Feb. 23, 1850.

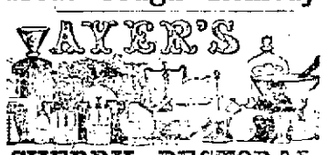
Great Cough Remedy!!



CHERRY PECTORAL
For the Cure of
COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, BRONCHITIS, CROUP, ASTHMA, WHOOPING-COUGH AND CONSUMPTION.

THIS bountiful, agreeable, and highly concentrated preparation of the "WILD CHERRY," is now universally acknowledged to be the only effectual cure for complaints of the Lungs and Throat. In every case the patient is relieved by its assistance, if persevered in, is permanently cured.

The Formula for which it is prepared has been laid before the Medical Colleges and a large part of the Medical Profession of this country, and they have agreed in according it unlimited praise as the most skilful preparation and the most certain known remedy for diseases of the Lungs and Throat.

READ THE FOLLOWING FACTS.

Dr. Brewster, of Windham Co., Conn., sends us the following testimony:—

DR. J. C. AYER—Dear Sir:—I enclose you a certificate from Mrs. Catharine K. Cady, a highly respectable lady of this village, wife of Mr. Seth Cady, Deputy Sheriff, Windham, Co., Connecticut. The cure in her case was very prompt, and has attracted general attention. A. BREWSTER, M. D.

WEST KILLINGLY, Ct., Sept. 28, 1848.

This may certify that I was afflicted with a very severe cough in the winter of '47-8, which threatened to terminate in Consumption. I had tried many medicines in vain, and was cured by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL.

DIRECT EVIDENCE.

Dr. J. C. Ayer, Lowell—Dear Sir:—Feeling under obligations to you for the restoration of my health, I send you a report of my case, which you are at liberty to publish for the benefit of others. Last autumn I took a bad cold, accompanied by a severe cough, and made use of many medicines without obtaining relief. I was obliged to give up business, frequently raised blood, and could get no sleep at night. A friend gave me a bottle of your Cherry Pectoral, the use of which I immediately commenced according to directions. I have just purchased the fifth bottle, and am nearly recovered. I now sleep well, my cough has ceased, and all by the use of your valuable medicine.

E. S. STONE, A. M.,
Principal Mt Hope Seminary.

From Dr. Bryant, Druggist and Postmaster, Chicopee Falls, Mass.:—

DR. J. C. AYER—Dear Sir:—Enclosed please find remittance for all the Cherry Pectoral last sent me. I can unhesitatingly say that no medicine we sell gives such satisfaction as your's does; nor have I ever seen a medicine which cured so many cases of Cough and Lung Complaints. Our Physicians are using it extensively in their practice, and with the happiest effects.

Truly yours, D. M. BRYANT.

Prepared by J. C. AYER, Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

RECOMMENDATION.

Certificate of Dr. Peasey, Portsmouth, N H

Portsmouth Sept 22 1849

Mr J P Moses, Agent for "White's Hair Restorative"

Dear Sir—I deem it my duty to state some instances of the wonderful value of White's Hair Restorative Several years ago, there seemed to be a total decay of my wife's hair all at her hairy the scalp appeared clear and bald, the hair grew up thin, and was even About a year ago, by applying the above, she had her hair as good and fine, and at the same time was spent only in action in the scalp After various applications I was induced to try the above mentioned Restorative, and now after the use of a few bottles her hair has grown out a thick luxurious and healthy child as ever I saw Furthermore, for a long time I have been afflicted with neuralgic and other pains in my head and I have found it the best external remedy I have ever tried. I can therefore cheerfully recommend it to all who are afflicted as above, as the best article I have ever seen

SPITTING BLOOD.

New York, Apr 28, 1847

DR. TOWNSEND—I verily believe that your Sarsaparilla has been the means, through Providence, of saving my life I have for several years had a bad cough, it became worse and worse At last I coughed large quantities of blood, and got so weak I could not go from bed without assistance, and did not expect to live — I have only used four Sarsaparilla a short time, and there has I would that change been wrought in me I can now walk all over the city I raise no blood, and my cough has left me. You can well imagine that I am thankful for these results

Your obedient servant,

WM ROSSELL, 65 Catherine st.

RHEUMATISM

This is only one of our Million hundred thousand cases of Rheumatism that Dr Townsend's Sarsaparilla has cured The most severe and chronic cases are weekly eradicated by this extraordinary virtue

St James Dispensary, Lunatic Asylum, Blackwell's Island, Sept 14, 1847

Dr Townsend—Dear Sir I have suffered terribly for nine years with the Rheumatism, considerable of the time I could not eat, sleep or rest at all you Sarsaparilla, and they have done me more than one thousand dollars worth of good. I am so much benefitted, I am entirely relieved You are at liberty to use this for the benefit of the afflicted. JAMES CUMMINGS

FITS! FITS! FITS!

Dr Townsend my little girl, seven years of age, who has been several years afflicted with Fits we tried almost every thing, for hours, but without success, at last, all gave up and did not expect recovery, I thought I would try your Sarsaparilla, and if it did not cure, it would do no harm, but it has cured her, she is now in good health, we would give two hundred dollars for your Sarsaparilla, and are very glad we did, for if it not only restored her strength, but she has had no return of the Fits, to our great joy and our hearts, for praise. Yours, respectfully,

JOHN BUTLER, Jr.

FEMALE MEDICINE.

Dr Townsend's Sarsaparilla is a sovereign and speedy cure for Fluor or Consumption Barrenness, Irregular Uterine Falling of the Womb, Gravel, Weakness, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Obstructed or difficult Menstruation Inflammation and Ulceration of the Womb, and for the general prostration of the system—no matter whether the result of indiscretion or excesses, produced by regulating pills, or improper treatment Nothing can be more speedy in its effect upon the nervous system, in restoring the lost energy and strength of the female. Even a few weeks or a few days taking, at once begins to show its influence, from the first dose it commences to restore the lost energy and resist the influence of the disease, and in a few days the female is entirely out of the reach of the disease.
